II. Reports

A. President's Report

The President gave the following report:

My report this afternoon will be brief as I want to cede my time to VP Fox's presentation on salient items from our PMP performance and VP Rivera's presentation on efforts to improve enrollment.

I would like to provide you with a few updates since I shared my monthly report last week. But first, I want to reiterate the role of governance at the college, its ultimate purpose is to ensure that we fulfill our mission. We only have one mission and it is a mission where students are at the center. Our mission is to respond to the needs of our diverse community by offering high quality, affordable, innovative, student-centered programs of study that prepare graduates for transfer and the workforce. We do so by striving for equity and providing each student with the appropriate resources and supports to foster success. One mission.

We cannot and must not lose sight of this. There are many ways to enhance our governance so that it does help us to fulfill our mission. And while we won't all agree, this is the path that we are taking. We have many voices that are important to this work, but there is no one voice that should be louder than the other. This is not easy work, and given all the dynamics that are often involved it is not work we can do on our own. I am grateful after months of searching that we were able to secure the services of a knowledgeable facilitator to help keep us focused. When we lose focus of our mission, when we all want to walk in different directions, when we drown out other voices to only hear our own, we are acting in direct opposition to why we are doing this work in the first place. This is both a process and a plan. Let’s continue to make progress on both fronts.

We recently received Updated Fall 2021 Reopening Guidelines and Re-closing Protocols. The Guidelines will be shared with Reopening Committee and they in turn will share with them college community.

New York State has approved the University’s planned distribution of student emergency grants for the third round of stimulus funds, known as HEERF III - ARPA (American Rescue Plan Act).

95% of the total campus awards will be processed centrally using this methodology. The remaining 5% will be available for campus discretionary awards.

In this round of funding, students will now have the option to apply their grant to any outstanding tuition and fee balance.

A communication will be going out shortly to financial aid directors further explaining the allocation methodology and workflow for distribution. And there will communication to the students informing them that they will be receiving these payments.

Thank you.

- B1. V.P. Fox reported on the preliminary PMP report based on the most recent data book provided by CUNY, with a final version to be sent in August. He stressed recent numbers that KCC is looking to improve, including Black and Latinx student enrollment, retention, access and completion, equity gaps, and other areas.
- B2. V.P. Rivera reported on Strategic Efforts on Enrollment, including recruitment and creating new recruitment pipelines and increasing diversity throughout the recruitment process.
- C. Curriculum Committee Report – [Special Actions, p.2-3; Changes in Degree Requirements, p.3-16; New Courses, p.16-18; informational items, p.19-28]

1. PSY 4200 - Psychology and Political Activism
Prerequisite: PSY 1100
Corequisite: NONE
Pre-/Co-requisite: NONE
Credits: 3
Hours: 3 hrs. lecture
Course Description: In recent years, multiple crises – political, economic, public health, and climate – have led to the reemergence of mass protests and social movements in the U.S. and around the world. This activism has won reforms and shifted public consciousness, suggesting even bigger changes to come. To better understand these processes and how we might contribute to them, this course examines the connection between psychology and political activism. We will ground our work in developmental and social psychological theories on the connection between mind and society. Then we will apply these theories to illuminate political and psychological experiences of oppression, alienation, solidarity, and liberation. We will explore how powerful social movements can transform the implicit and explicit attitudes of participants, supporters, and even opponents. We will connect psychological phenomena to political struggles for racial justice, economic equality, women's and LGBT equality, disability rights, educational justice, and workers' power. We will act by engaging our campus, communities, and New York City through an activist psychological lens.

Proposed Resolution to Revise Peer Evaluation of Teaching Form

WHEREAS, the 2017 College Council approved Peer Evaluation of Teaching Form focused on creating an evaluation tool to address observations for in person, hybrid, and online, courses; and

WHEREAS, the delivery of instruction now includes new course attributes (Hyflex) associated with the aforementioned modalities, and the online modality is further designated as either synchronous or asynchronous, and
